Related subject: Trinity Ward

I object to the proposed change of the amalgamation of Stroud Trinity Ward with Painswick & Bisley Ward. Anyone familiar with the area would know that Stroud Trinity Ward is and has historically been very much part of Stroud town in terms of its demographic, its cultural and community identity and activities. The ward extends to within a few hundred yards of the town centre and identifies as a town.

We have little in common with the mainly rural areas that form the rest of Bisley and Painswick. A county councillor who is used to representing villagers and farming communities cannot be expected to understand the needs and issues of a town community.

Furthermore, Trinity contains several landmarks and facilities that are used by the whole of the town: the Maternity Hospital, the Minor Injuries Unit, the Trinity Rooms, the Old and New cemeteries, Trinity Church, Stroud Valleys School, the Heavens. It makes no sense to separate these from the rest of the town.
