I do not agree with moving Owlpen into the Wotton area. Owlpen is an integral part of Uley, and should be in the same administrative area. So many things are shared between them. We use the same village hall, school, church, shop and pub. Our village Lantern festival is organised by a resident of Owlpen. We are one community. I am a volunteer Cotswold parish warden who looks after the Rights of Way in Uley and Owlpen. They have always been treated as one district, so what is the point of dividing them?
