Hi there!

I hope you are well.

I was recently made aware of the intention to merge Newtown and Grangefield, and I am emailing to say that I disagree with this proposal

Grangefield and Newtown are two completely different places

I've lived in Stockton for 37 years, since birth, and I have always known they are divided into two, Grangefield, and Newtown

I believe that a single member (councillor) 'Grangefield' Ward made up of Grange Estate and Newham Grange Estate. we share the same bus stops, shops and St Pauls Church

Durham Road and Primrose Hill should join the Town Centre Ward to make up a three member ward. Again they share the same bus routes, and Hebron Church and shops

When we were looking for somewhere to buy our 'Forever Family home' we chose Allendale Road in Grangefield, not Allendale Road in Newtown

We chose the area for the neighbourhood and community, something which we would not have if we were forced to merge with Newtown

I trust that this email will be taken seriously, and look forward to your acknowledgment
