

WORCESTERSHIRE

July 2024

NEW ELECTORAL ARRANGEMENTS

Currently there are:

- 57 councillors
- 52 divisions
- 47 single-councillor divisions and 5 two-councillor

292 residents and organisations helped shape our recommendations

We aim to make sure Worcestershire councillors represent a similar number of electors

From elections in 2025:

- 57 councillors
- 53 divisions
- 49 single-councillor divisions and 4 two-councillor

Currently there are:

- 14 divisions that are more than 10% away from the average number of electors per division
- 1 division that is more than 20% away from the average

Worcestershire will move towards:

- 8 divisions being more than 10% away from the average number of electors per ward
- Each councillor representing an average of 8,687 electors