The areas around chappelfields have been decimated by Coventry council neglect to encompass the community around the area. Councilor seen to pass the book of to other councilors as the issue is not in their ward. For example hersall common is within 5 mins walk from my house but we have no say in what happens on the common and what proposals are being initiated in this area. I have spoken and written to the local MP and have not had any reply which is poor for a person who is ment to be a spokes person for our community.

The common is a hub and should be a prominent place for people to enjoy. The council have taken away the sports aspect of this area by removing football pitches, shut down the public toilets, and have not made any family space for benches etc for people to sit and enjoy the area. Again this is from a fragmented communication between wards. So people feel un represented and have no voice. The council has lack of engagement with their community which I feel is a disgrace and this seems party lead. It seems the money is spent in the areas that have more voters which is shown by the inbalance of voters in certain areas. This situation has been going on for too long and I feel the council do not represent the people of Coventry and are out for their own gains. The council should represent the residents of Coventry equally but as your investigation has found not to be true.
