Comment text:

Related subject: Baildon

I have lived in Baildon all my life and strongly support the suggestion as Baildon being a 'stand alone' Ward. Baildon has always had well defined boundaries which follow geographical features. It has always been a mystery to most residents why the Coach Rd side of Baildon suddenly became part of Saltaire/ShIPLEY and the idea that Eldwick should be part of Baildon just for electoral evening up was a barmy and ridiculous idea as there is no connection between these two distinct communities, just a moorland road often impassable in winter.

I, and my fellow Councillors spent many hours carefully putting together our proposals and had much consultation with residents and were thankful that the Boundaries Commission saw sense. I hope Bradford Council does the same
