Sirs

I strongly disagree with any plan to move any of Eldwick ward away from Bingley. Has anyone looked at the contours on a map? They'd show a rather hilly area between Baildon and Eldwick (Baildon Moor) which forms a natural division between the two with no direct public transport over it or round it.

This is obvious either on a site visit or by the simple expedient of creating a gradient profile as I learned in my geography lessons at school more than 60 years ago!

To be a bit more positive, at least use the Parish Boundary as the area for Eldwick ward.

Regards
