Related subject: Eldwick

Eldwick is a place with its own identity, as is Baildon. They are separated by a large expanse of moorland. Eldwick has a BD16 postcode which indicates it is part of Bingley, not Baildon.

Eldwick residents use GP surgeries, physiotherapists, vets and dentists in Gilstead or Bingley. They shop in Bingley. They use Bingley taxis. They can get a bus to Bingley. You can't get to Baildon on a bus.

What possible benefit would there be for splitting Eldwick village between Bingley and Baildon? Leave the boundary alone.

[REDACTED], resident of Eldwick for 48 years.
