I agree with the current proposals. In particular the dividing line being the old A1. Stumpcross could never be linked to Knottingley as they are a different town and in no way share an identity with Knottingley. I agree the villages of East Hardwick and Wentbridge should not be divided into different wards that makes no sense to locals with no consistent view from these villages. I was once clerk to Thorpe Audlin parish council and it was very difficult to get people in Wentbridge to express views as they see themselves as a self contained separate village. The same situation exists for all villages in this general area. One issue that may flow from this review is perhaps school catchment areas. Could this review lead to this matter being looked at?
