Related subject: Dene and South Gosforth

The Dene and South Gosforth Ward straddles a number of individual residential areas and the connection between some of these areas is limited. That said, High West Jesmond has strong connections and shares issues with the communities in the ward to the west of Haddricks Mill Road and under the current ward organisation we have not had difficulty contacting our local councillors or getting them to devote time to our area. We also note the comments in the proposal about the difficulties of separating the areas to the east and west of Haddricks Mill Road. For these reasons the Association is supportive of the plan to continue the ward as currently with the slight modification to the boundary as outlined in the proposal.
