Related subject: Ibstock and Ellistown

Surely it would make more sense to include the eastern part of Ibstock in the Ibstock East area rather than in the Ellistown West area? Especially since there are plans to build more houses between Leicester Road and Blackberry Lane, which would probably have access onto the A447. Surely Ibstock residents want to feel that they belong to an Ibstock Ward and relate to that Ward and its services.

I realise that you have chopped up the areas according to number of households in an area, but surely this is a guideline, not a rule. It would make more sense to revise the Ellistown-only boundaries, to take into account the new developments off Beveridge Lane.
