I have no problem with the proposed changes.

Any change to make wards more equal in terms of electoral size is to be welcomed.

I can only hope that any changes will result in a new regime that will better take on board and reflect the wishes, concerns and views of the residents in the numerous villages and communities in the district and these will be registered and taken seriously.

In my view, decisions are taken by NWLDC that do not take account of the views of local residents who are apparently perceived as "NIMBYS" and not as people who really care about their village, it's history and it's future.
